

Black Hat Dancer, Pumakha

Prayer Flags, Chela Pass

Tiger's Nest, Paro

Sacred Festivals of Bhutan

September 14-24, 2013

Join the Viewpoint Photographic Art Center and northern California photographer and educator, Rick Murai, on an exciting journey to Bhutan – one of the world's little known treasures where tourism is limited – and the quality of life is measured in terms of Gross National Happiness. Centered around two sacred festivals, participants of this inspirational and totally immersive workshop will experience Bhutan's remote culture, stunning landscapes, ancient monasteries and its warm and welcoming people.

Rick will share his critically acclaimed photographs from this fascinating country, and discuss the itinerary and highlights of Viewpoint's Sacred Festivals of Bhutan workshop at:

Viewpoint Gallery, Friday, Feb 15, 7:00 PM
2015 J St. Sacramento, CA

Tour cost:

$4195 to $4440 - double occupancy

$405 - single supplement

Does not include USA > Bangkok round trip airfare

Due to limited flights and accommodations a $400 non-refundable deposit must be received by April 15, 2013

Limited to 14 participants

Please RSVP to Rick Murai, richard@richardmurai.com, if you would like to attend this informational meeting

For complete information see: www.viewpointgallery.org or contact Rick Murai.